North American Mammals

Photography of Dave Collins

Back by popular demand is our own Dave Collins, Professional Photographer. Dave will treat us to some of his exciting photographs of North American Wildlife including stories and shots of his time in Yellowstone National Park. Dave Collins was born and raised in the San Fernando Valley. During his childhood, Dave developed a strong fascination for nature and wildlife. His love of photography began during his teenage years. For many years photography remained a hobby that he practiced intensively during his free time. In 2005, Dave made a life-changing trip to Yellowstone National Park where he was able to photograph the infamous wolves. Using his first 'real' camera, he was able to capture some amazing photographs! It was during this trip that he became as passionate about photography as he was about nature.

Dave currently leads photo expeditions throughout the Western United States and enjoys sharing his passion for wildlife photography with others. Dave's photographs may be viewed on the Web at davecollinsimages.com. Last year Dave taught a photography class for our chapter in which participants attended a get-to-know-your-camera session and then had follow-up experiences putting their new knowledge to work in the field. —Photos: Red Fox and Coyote

Important Membership: Renewal Changes—Rose Leibowitz, Membership Chair. Photo: Hermit Thrush by Rose Leibowitz

As you may or may not know, we have two types of membership of the San Fernando Valley Audubon Society. Some of you get local membership through your National Audubon subscription and some join locally. Many of the most active members do both! While we welcome all members (and non-members since our activities are free!), if you feel an involvement in our chapter, we encourage you to join locally.

Since I have been e-mailing members to let them know when the Phainopepla is online, I have noticed a change in our local membership. Nearly half the local members now pay the lower price and have opted not to receive the paper by 'snail mail.' Similarly, those who want a hard copy have been migrating to our first class membership to be sure of receiving it by the beginning of the month, (Bulk mail has been very slow in the last few months).

Our Board has voted to go with this flow. Starting September 2013, all membership subscriptions and renewals will be $20.00 for membership only (no paper copy) and $25.00 for membership with First Class postal delivery of the Phainopepla. If you have any questions please contact us at SFVAudubonSociety@gmail.com.

Phainopepla Photo of the Month by Jim Fermo

Our photo for this issue is from Jim Fermo, a National Audubon member. Here's what he has to say about this very atmospheric shot: "Last summer on one of my visits to the Sepulveda Basin I came across this Snowy Egret perhaps cooling down from the heat. The Egret seemed to be in tune with me being there and it began to stretch its wings almost as though it was yawning."

The picture was taken with a Nikon D7000 with a 18 to 300 mm Lens ISO 800. The picture was converted to B & W in Corel Paint Shop Pro X5. Thanks, Jim, and thanks, also, for saving us postage money by receiving your newsletter online!

Please submit your photos to Lynn.Maddox@sfvaudubon.org. Only one picture per photographer per month please! Ideally, the picture will be taken within our area and the information will include the location and the date it was taken, what camera and lens was used, a short account of how the picture was taken, and profile of the photographer. Good shooting! Thanks, Lynn. 🐦

Workshop: An Introduction to Bird Sounds

Sylvia Gallagher will be offering an Introductory Bird Sounds Workshop on Saturday, October 5 for SFVAS. Sylvia is a well-known for her expertise in teaching birding identification by sight and sound. Her workshop will introduce the practice of using sonograms to better understand and analyze bird calls and songs. Her classes have produced many outstanding birders in the southern California area. Sylvia lives in Huntington Beach so we are fortunate to have her come to the valley for a day. We have about ten or twelve people signed up so far and have room for more. The class will be offered in a San Fernando Valley Location and will likely run from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Lunch will be included and the price will run $20.00 per person. If you are interested in taking this workshop or want more information, save the date, and contact Heather Medvitz at heather.medvitz@sfvaudubon.org. This date will not conflict with the Beginning Birder's Class dates. 🐦

Beginners' Birding Class

There are still two spots available in the beginners' class in October. It will run for four sessions that include two walks and two 'classroom' reviews. There will also be chances to participate in our regular walks and meeting at that time. The first class will be on October 17. There will be a fee of $25.00. For more information, please contact Rose Leibowitz at SFVAudubonSociety@gmail.com. 🐦

Monthly Field Trip Reports by Richard Barth

On May 11 we birded the Walker Ranch section of Placerita Canyon, then nearby Whitney Canyon. Our turn-out was good on a warm spring day. Notable sightings on the walk included White-tailed Kite, Cassin's Vireo, Lazuli Bunting, Steller's Jay, Phainopepla, Black-chinned Hummingbird, Black-headed Grosbeak, Hammond's Flycatcher, Pacific-slope Flycatcher, Ash-throated Flycatcher, California Thrasher, Warbling Vireo, Western Tanager, White-breasted Nuthatch, Wrentit, Swainson's Thrush and Bullock's Oriole. Our warblers were Hermit, Yellow, Townsend's and Wilson's. Also of interest were Western Bluebird, California Quail, House Wren, Northern Flicker, Oak Titmouse, Dark-eyed Junco, Song Sparrow, Chipping Sparrow and Spotted Towhee. Brown-headed Cowbirds were seen. At Walker Ranch we encountered an unusual number of species gathered in a mixed flock hawking insects in the air, some uncharacteristically. It was exciting to observe an adult Red-shouldered Hawk bringing prey to its nest for a downy youngster.

June 8 marked our visit to Rancho Sierra Vista Preserve in Ventura County. Some areas here were blackened by the recent "Springs" fire, but quite a bit of quality bird habitat remained. Species of interest on hand were Blue Grosbeak (found early and often), Greater Roadrunner, White-tailed Kite, Wrentit, Ash-throated Flycatcher, Hooded Oriole, and White-breasted Nuthatch. Both Cassin's and Western Kingbirds were seen. California Quail, House Wren, Say's Phoebe, Orange-crowned Warbler, Cliff Swallow, Western Bluebird and Spotted Towhee made our list. The two ponds on the preserve were dry and grown over. Our raptors in addition to the kite were Cooper's Hawk, Red-tailed Hawk, American Kestrel and Turkey Vulture. Black-hooded (Nanday) Parakeet is now established here. Kerry Morris and I continued birding after the walk and picked up Black-headed Grosbeak, California Thrasher, and Bullock's Oriole. Target birds missed on the day were Grasshopper Sparrow and Lazuli Bunting. 🐦
